Dear friends

I am writing to thank you for your attendance at the Belfast Tech Alliance Zoom Dinner. It was a fantastic evening and I was delighted to be a part of it.

As you heard last night, Queen's Pathway Programme is breaking down barriers to Higher Education for young people from disadvantaged backgrounds across Northern Ireland. Following a generous corporate gift in 2017, every student receives a £1,000 bursary in their first year and our aim is to raise enough to make this an annual award throughout their degrees.

Your support of this event has helped to raise a further £20,000 for this life-changing programme. Thank you so much for your generosity.

Our partnership with the business community is incredibly important and we value opportunities to work with you to invest in the development of the next generation. If you would be interested to hear more about the Programme or to find out more about working with Queen's, can I invite you to connect with my colleagues in the Development office. Contact details are included below.

Thank you once again for your support.

Yours faithfully

Professor Ian Greer
President and Vice-Chancellor of Queen's University Belfast
